1. Introduction

Good behaviour is a necessary condition for effective teaching and learning to take place. It comprises meaningful praise and rewards; sound relationships between staff and students and stimulating and effective teaching and learning opportunities. To be effective, it requires the consistent application of sanctions when a student does not meet the behaviour expectations of the school.

Our policy has been written in consultation with students, staff and parents. British School Salalah seeks to develop confident, reflective students, to promote self-esteem and to establish a positive ethos which is conducive to learning and in which the individual student feels valued, respected and can thrive.

The school's expectations of good behaviour will be modelled, reiterated, and reinforced by students, parents, governors and staff.

2. Choice

At BSS, we encourage students to take personal responsibility for their behaviour and support them in managing and understanding their choices. We encourage empathy and that they think of others and the wider world. We offer them lots of opportunities to collaborate in order to encourage tolerance, acceptance of others' opinions and a sense of community and belonging. We never humiliate or shame a student. We encourage students to make positive choices and to reflect and make amends when they have failed to do so. This supports William Glasser's Choice Theory.

The universal system for empowering individuals and improving relationships. Choice Theory® is based on the simple premise that every individual only has the power to control themselves and has limited power to control others. Applying Choice Theory allows one to take responsibility for one's own life and at the same time, withdraw from attempting to direct other people's decisions and lives. Individuals are empowered to take responsibility for their choices and support others in taking ownership of their choices. Negative behaviours reduce in frequency and intensity, relationships strengthen and satisfaction in life increases."

British School Salah Promoting Positive Behaviour and Relationships

See APPENDIX 1 - HOW WE MEET THE NEEDS OF CHILDREN AT BSS.

Language to support Choice:

- Good choice
- Wrong choice
- Consequences of your choices

Strategies to support Choice:

Restorative Conversations (example, adapt and use your own words)

- What happened?
- How did it make you feel/What did you need/want?
- Who has been affected by what you have chosen to do?
- What has been the hardest thing for you?
- What do you think needs to be done to make it right?
- What have you learnt and what will you do differently next time?

See APPENDIX 2 - Carrying out a Restorative Conversation & APPENDIX 2 & 3 - Restorative Conversation Flashcards for further guidance.

3. Expectations

The expectation for all students and adults is that they:

- BE Safe
- BE Ready
- BE Respectful

This supports and underpins our schools' Learning Ethos. Each year group agrees and displays their own definitions of the 3 BEs. These are shared with parents at the beginning of the year.

See APPENDIX 4 - EYFS Expected Behaviour Agreement.

APPENDIX 5 - Y1-12 Expected Behaviour Agreement

In addition, a one-page policy appears in each class and is shared with parents outlining expectations, stepped responses to negative behaviour and how students that go “over and beyond” are rewarded. APPENDIX 6 - BSS BEHAVIOUR ROAD MAP/ EYFS APPENDIX 7 - BSS BEHAVIOUR ROAD MAP Y1-2

See APPENDIX 8 - Rewards

See APPENDIX 15a/15b - Y1 - 12 BSS Learning Ethos/EYFS Learning Ethos

6. Sanctions

Staff refer to APPENDIX 9a & 9b - BSS PRIMARY & SENIOR BEHAVIOUR LEVELS for guidance on appropriate responses, consequences and communication with parents.

There are seven behaviour levels:

Gold	Exceptional behaviour and conduct over time
Silver	Going above and beyond
Bronze	Independently exhibiting consistently good behaviour
Green	Expected behaviour
Blue	Low level poor behaviour and infractions
Amber	Includes repeated low level poor behaviour and aggressive attitude and behaviour
Red	Extreme behaviour including the promotion or incitement of religious hatred, racist, or sexist language or behaviour.

7. Recording Behaviour Concerns and Incidents

This is recorded on the BSS individual Student Support Logs on the shared drive . See APPENDIX 13

British School Salalah Promoting Positive Behaviour and Relationships

1. Behaviour Incident - one off behaviour entry for a specific incident. Recorded by the member of staff who is initially involved or observes behaviour. Staff subsequently involved; record follow up
2. Pastoral Concern – a child becomes a Pastoral Concern when their individual Student Support Log lists multiple types of ongoing negative or concerning behaviour. All adults contribute to individual Student Support Logs. Children who are a concern need additional strategies put in place by the class teacher. In this instance a Pastoral Action Record should be created and parents involved.
3. Pastoral Action Record - behaviour or pastoral intervention involving the student, parents, class teacher, Pastoral Lead, Deputy Head or Head of School. This outlines key concerns, strategies and consequences of ongoing negative behaviour both at home and at school. May include a Behaviour Protocol. Reviewed regularly, 6-9 weeks.

How to log behaviour:

- Behaviour incidents on the Student Support Log should mention all students involved whether they are the perceived perpetrator or not.
- Initial and date any follow up comments in the 'additional columns'.
- Entries should be factual and avoid judgements or opinions i.e. “? didn't seem sorry”, “? is manipulative”, “That's typical of children from...”
- Be clear on the consequences for behaviour, any contact with parents and add any relevant follow up information.

8. Bullying & Racism

British School Salalah has a zero tolerance approach towards bullying and racism. Any bullying behaviours that come from students, staff or families towards members of the BSS school community will not be tolerated. We are committed to establishing a bully and racist free school and all members of the school community, staff, visitors and parents have a responsibility to provide positive role models for our students.

Our approach to anti-bullying aims to:

- Promote respect and tolerance for each other;
- Provide a secure, stimulating, positive and mutually respectful and inclusive environment for learning;
- Clarify for students through PSHE, across the curriculum and in assemblies what bullying is and that it is always unacceptable;
- Explain to staff, students and the whole school community the impact of bullying on individuals and the school as a whole;
- To have in place an anti-bullying support system that all staff and students understand and to apply the system consistently.

British School Salah Promoting Positive Behaviour and Relationships

Our School:

- Will be explicit about our values and expectations;
- Will discuss, monitor and review our positive behaviour policy;
- Will support staff to promote positive behaviour and identify and tackle bullying appropriately;
- Will ensure that students are aware that all bullying concerns will be dealt with promptly, sensitively and effectively;
- Will ensure that students feel safe to learn and that students abide by the Positive Behaviour & Relationship Policy;
- Will report back to parents regarding their concerns on bullying and will deal promptly with complaints. Parents in turn will work with the school to uphold the Positive Behaviour & Relationship Policy.

Definition of Bullying

Guidance from www.gov.uk

There is no legal definition of bullying. However, it's usually defined as behaviour that is:

- repeated
- intended to hurt someone either physically or emotionally
- often aimed at certain groups, for example because of race, religion, gender or sexual orientation

It takes many forms (See APPENDIX 10).

It is important that the BSS community is aware that any cyberbullying will be dealt with as seriously as face-to-face bullying, regardless of whether the bullying is physically perpetrated on the school site. DfE guidance on cyberbullying states: "Schools should also make clear that it is not acceptable for pupils, parents or colleagues to denigrate and bully (any member of the school community) via social media in the same way that it is unacceptable to do so face to face."

"Bullying is a form of emotional abuse and can be described as deliberately hurtful behaviour, repeated over a period of time." (OFSTED guidance)

Preventing and responding to Bullying, both face to face and cyberbullying

At BSS, we believe that all our students, staff and families have the right to learn, work and visit BSS in a secure, caring and friendly environment. Bullying can spoil lessons and stop learning. Everyone should be able to contribute to lessons and to the life of the school without intimidation.

The school aim is to prevent bullying and create an atmosphere where all students, staff and members of the BSS community feel safe. A school philosophy will be built through the curriculum, extra-curricular activities, assemblies, INSET and staff meetings. Negative or devaluing behaviour will not be tolerated and will be dealt with appropriately and promptly.

British School Salah Promoting Positive Behaviour and Relationships

All incidents will be treated seriously and may ultimately lead to exclusion.

Positive steps towards prevention

We will:

- Train all staff and students to identify all bullying behaviours and follow school policy and procedures related to bullying.
- Expect all parents to uphold the values of BSS and behave as role models to their children, by demonstrating positive behaviour towards all other members of the BSS community.
- Consider all opportunities for addressing bullying including through the curriculum, assemblies and through student leaders;
- Encourage positive behaviour;
- Supervised break duties and regular patrolling by the Leadership Team and duty staff of areas where bullying can occur at specific times, i.e. playground, corridors, classrooms, toilets.

Developing a common school approach

- All staff, students and members of the BSS community have a responsibility to play a part in preventing and eliminating bullying within the school community;
- The referral process should be through the pastoral system (i.e. behaviour policy);
- The safety of the victim is vital; they must feel safe and know that the school is a safe place. Their safety must be monitored after the incident;
- Every incident is serious to the victim and, as such, their anxiety must not be belittled;
- Before any action is taken, it will be discussed with the victim;
- A Feelings Thermometer is used in all classrooms up to Year 8, this encourages disclosures;
- The bully must be dealt with too and it should be done constructively;
- Staff and parents are role models and should not bully;
- Ensure everyone is aware of the consequences and that parents of both the bully and the victim will be contacted.

Encouragement to tell

We actively encourage anyone who is being bullied, or others who know about it, to feel that they will be listened to, and that action will be swiftly taken which is sensitive to their needs.

Students are taught through the PSHE Curriculum and annual Anti-Bullying/Friendship Week that as 'Bystanders' of bullying, they have a responsibility to report any concerns. This should not be responded to as "tittle tattle" but listened to, acknowledged and investigated.

Disclosure (telling an adult/peer) can be direct and open or indirect and anonymous. Everyone must realise that not telling someone means that the bullying is likely to continue.

British School Salah Promoting Positive Behaviour and Relationships

We all have a role to play:

Staff

We expect staff to:

- Provide students with a framework of behaviour including class rules which supports positive behaviour;
- Emphasise and behave in a respectful and caring manner to students, other staff and members of the school community, to set a good tone and help create a positive atmosphere;
- Provide students with a good role model;
- Raise awareness of bullying through stories, role-play, discussion, peer support, student leaders, PSHE;
- Through the Head of School, keep the Governing Body well informed regarding issues concerning behaviour management;
- Work with the Leadership Team so that the positive behaviour policy can be properly enforced and monitored;
- Regularly canvas views on the extent and nature of bullying;
- Ensure students know how to express worries and anxieties about bullying;
- Ensure all students are aware of the range of sanctions which may be applied against those engaging in bullying;
- Involve students in anti-bullying campaigns in schools e.g. during an Anti-Bullying Week;
- Offer support to students who have been bullied;
- Work with students who have been bullying in order to address the problems they have;
- Consistently apply the anti-bullying procedures;

Students

- Report all incidents of bullying (whether they are bullied or they know of a bullying situation);
- Treat all people as you would like to be treated;
- Be firm - know that the school will support you;
- Put all incidents of negative and devaluing behaviour in writing - provide witnesses if possible.

If you witness a bullying situation and do not report it, you are condoning the behaviour and supporting the bully. This is known as being a Bystander and will be treated severely too.

All parents

- If you have worries about your son/daughter being bullied, please contact his/her Class Teacher.
- If you know of any incident of bullying, please contact your child's Class Teacher who will report it to the appropriate adult.
- Any concerns that parents may have must be referred to a member of staff.

Be aware of signs that your child is being bullied:

British School Salah Promoting Positive Behaviour and Relationships

- Has their behaviour changed recently?
- Is their relationship with brothers/sisters any different?
- Are they quieter/more boisterous than normal?
- Do they avoid going to school?
- Are they often late in the morning?

Parents must also promote positive behaviour by being a role model to their children at all times.

Communication with Governors

- Any Anti-Bullying issues which have implications for child protection will be reported to Governors in line with the procedures set out in the school's Safeguarding and Child Protection Policy.
- Any Anti-Bullying issues which lead to fixed term or permanent exclusions will be reported to Governors in the Head of Schools termly report.
- Any bullying trends which are causing concern to the school will be reported to the Governors in the Principal's termly report.

Dealing with an incident

Bullying incidents discovered at BSS will be taken seriously, dealt with promptly and support will be provided for the victim and bully.

BSS will support all involved by:

- Talking through the incident with the victim and bully;
- Helping the victim and bully to express their feelings;
- Discussing strategies for making amends.

Parents (of both the victim and bully) will be informed of what has happened, and the action taken.

A record will be made of these discussions and, if necessary, witness statements will be obtained. Incidents clearly identified as bullying must be reported to the class teacher and other relevant adults (see Primary & Senior Behaviour Levels, APPENDIX 9a & 9b). All incidents and follow up action will be recorded and logged by completing a Bullying Incident Report form (APPENDIX 11).

Prevention and Intervention

Bystanders can take positive actions to prevent bullying and to address it while it is happening or after it occurs. Parents, teachers, and other caring adults can recommend safe ways that bystanders can prevent, intervene, or address bullying.

Prevention steps include:

- Being inclusive by welcoming others to join their activities and groups
- Being a role model for prosocial behaviour by showing kindness, respect, and empathy for others.
- Walking or sitting with or near vulnerable kids who may be targets of bullying.

British School Salah Promoting Positive Behaviour and Relationships

- Getting involved with bullying prevention efforts at school or in the community

Bystander interventions during a bullying incident may include:

- Defending the target of the bullying
- Intervening as a group
- Changing the subject
- Questioning the bullying behaviour
- Using humour to lighten up a serious situation
- Openly stating an objection to bullying
- Stating approval of the victim and validating his or her social status

Bystanders can address bullying after it happens by:

- Reaching out privately to the target of the bullying to express support or concern.
- Reporting the bullying to a trusted adult, parent, teacher, or member of the school community.
- Reaching out privately to the person doing the bullying to express concern, if they feels safe to do so

9. Racism

Definition of Racism

Racist: A person who shows or feels discrimination or prejudice against people of other races, or who believes that a particular race is superior to another.

Racist Incident: Any incident which is perceived by the victim or any other person to be motivated by hostility or prejudice based on a person's race or perceived race.

Definition of Religious Incident

Religious incident: Any incident which is perceived by the victim or any other person to be motivated by hostility or prejudice based on a person's religion or perceived religion.

Actions following a perceived incident:

Deliberate harm and bullying: If behaviour involves deliberate harm to another student or is perceived as being bullying behaviour, this is referred to and fully investigated by a member of the Leadership Team. In the case of a bullying concern, a Bullying Incident Form (APPENDIX 11) should be filled in by the adult observing the behaviour.

Racist or negative religious behaviour: Behaviour perceived as racist or as being negative about another person's religion is referred to and fully investigated by the Head of School. A Religious/Racist Incident Form (APPENDIX 12) should be filled in by the adult observing the behaviour and given to the Head of School within 24 hours of the reported incident.

The conclusions of any perceived instances of bullying, racism or negative religious behaviour must be reported to the Head of School, Principal and School Governors. Parents will also be informed whether the concern is confirmed or not.

9. Transition

At the end of each academic year, class teachers hold transition meetings where they discuss individual pupil progress, attainment and pastoral information. Any significant issues relating to behaviour will be shared at this time and copies of all relevant records, including the outcomes of meetings with parents will be forwarded on to the next teacher. Specialist teachers liaise directly with class teachers to pass on information relating to student behaviour in their subjects. Where there has been an ongoing transition concern relating to behaviour, a Transition Form should have been filled in and the Head of School made aware. When the transition is between the Primary and the Senior School, the Senior Deputy Head should be informed of any known transition concerns well in advance. The Deputy Heads and Head of School monitors students with any significant behaviour during the process of transition and at the start of the academic year.

10. Guidance on the use of Reasonable Force

Please see Appendix 14.

APPENDIX 2: Carrying out a Restorative Conversation

1) What happened?

Non-judgemental, models empathy and respect. Objective is for a child to feel understood and heard. Listen (use facial gestures and body language, and small words eg. 'yes', 'okay', 'I see', 'um'... to demonstrate active listening)

- Ask questions to clarify if necessary
- Check if you understand properly (do you mean...?)
- If they use this as an opportunity to justify themselves, let them. The objective at this stage is for the child to feel heard and understood, not corrected.
- If what the child is saying isn't an accurate reflection of the truth, ask inquisitive questions and check understanding: 'are you saying that this happened?'

2) How did it make you feel?

Help them to name the feelings they were experiencing. There are no "wrong" or "bad" feelings. This will support the child in linking the choices they make to the emotions they feel. In turn, this will help them to better understand that these same feelings can be managed differently in the future. A feelings poster or feelings flashcards may be helpful at this point.

- Suggest feelings if necessary.
- Respond with empathetic body language and facial expressions.
- Repeat back what you have understood i.e "You were angry at that ?was at the front of the line so you pinched him?".

3) What did you need/want?

Help to explore the needs/wants that were driving their feelings. Examples: someone to play with, fairness, help, freedom, choice, to be listened to, quiet, sleep, food, water, more to do or to feel safe.

4) Who has been affected by what you have chosen to do?

The objective is that they identify the consequences of their choices and the impact it has had on others. This encourages the child to have empathy and to take accountability.

- Listen
- Ask questions Check understanding
- If the child is resisting acknowledging the impact of their choices, support them by telling them what you noticed. i.e. When you pinched ? I noticed that ? cried and became sad."
- You could also follow up with, "Who else was affected by this behaviour?". This question is about understanding how the behaviour affects people not directly involved with the incident, for example the rest of the class, the teaching staff, the rest of the school.

5) What has been/will be the hardest thing for you?

This helps the child to identify what they have found difficult i.e. that their parents will be cross with them when they find out; that they don't feel they have any friends; that they feel embarrassed etc.

6) What do you think needs to be done to make it right?

The child is given responsibility to make amends. This might include apologising to the class, writing an apology letter, replacing broken equipment, cleaning up any mess that has been made, helping another child with a task etc.

7) Or What have you learnt and what will you do differently next time? Which choices would you make if you were in this situation again?

An opportunity to respond to the feelings they identified and plan to manage these in a more controlled and positive way. Summarise and reinforce what the child has planned to do next time.

APPENDIX 8: REWARDS

Individual Rewards:

- Specific, written or verbal praise.
- Celebration of learning or effort i.e. displaying work, letting the parent know, sending a child to a Middle Leader, Deputy Head or Head of School.
- Awarding stickers and stamps (decide on in your phases)
- Awarding Star of the week (year groups to decide) certificates. Meaningfully awarded to students who have gone above and beyond in terms of effort/ relationships/attainment.
- Extra responsibilities or leadership roles i.e. line leader, classroom responsibility etc.
- Golden Ticket

Class goals and rewards:

Step 1.

Each class is different; therefore, each class has its own shared goal that ALL students are working towards. In the first few weeks this might be about travelling around school sensibly (setting the expectations of what this looks like) or getting to know someone new in your class. Later on in the term it might involve working towards mastering a Learning Ethos behaviour. Students should be involved in identifying the class goal, e.g. "What do we want to get better at?" Aim for 2 goals per half term in term 1 and 1 -2 goals per half term in term 2 and 3. This should not become a weekly reward, it is a goal the class is collectively working towards.

Step 2.

Decide on a class reward for achieving the goal i.e. an extended break time on the adventure playground/class disco/talent show/visit to FS/pizza making/bring a game to school/table tennis competition. Try to make only 1 reward over the year food based. Reward is roughly an hour long.

Step 3.

Decide how they will know if achieved reward i.e. collecting 10 frogs on a lily pad/rocket ship/a set number of marbles in a jar (each marble has a value)/1,000,000 points. Points towards the goal can be rewarded to individuals or the whole class. Make both the goal and progress towards achieving this visible and prominent in your class. Try to make this engaging and fun. This should be a obvious feature in your classroom

Housepoints

Awarded for effort, attainment and demonstrating Learning Ethos behaviours. Award a max of 3 house points per student. 3 being for something exceptional. Additional house points can be earned through inter house competitions or from awarding weekly Golden Tickets to 1 child in every Primary class (earns 10 house points)

APPENDIX 10: Bullying Definition and examples

Definitions:

We aim to work towards combating any negative or devaluing behaviour towards another person which includes bullying.

What is bullying?

“Bullying is the intentional hurting of one person by another. It is usually repetitive or persistent, although some one-off attacks can have a continuing harmful effect on the victim.”

The teachers, staff, governors, parents and students of BSS believe that negative and devaluing behaviour:

- Is hurtful, threatening, harmful and disrespectful;
- Can include behaviours which hurt, threaten or frighten another person or group of people;
- Can be unprovoked, repeated and sometimes can continue for a long period of time.

Bullying falls into the following categories:

- verbal – such as threatening consequences, spreading rumours, excluding, calling names, teasing, making sexual, racist, sectarian remarks, highlighting physical appearance;
- physical – such as kicking, punching, hitting, spitting, biting, tripping;
- emotional – such as ignoring, talking behind backs, staring, writing unpleasant notes, letters, graffiti, and text messages;
- non-verbal – getting people into trouble, leaving them out of games, writing letters and text messages.

Bullying behaviours may include, but are not limited to, aspects such as:

- Neglecting, making someone uncomfortable;
- Name-calling, taunting, mocking, making offensive comments;
- Kicking, hitting, pushing and shoving, fighting, spitting;
- Taking or damaging belongings, stealing from students' school bags or lunch boxes;
- Photographing, using or publishing photos without consent;
- Gossiping, spreading hurtful and untruthful rumours;
- Socially excluding people from groups e.g. not talking to them, excluding them from activities;
- Any relate to race, religion or culture; special education needs and disabilities; appearance or health; sexual orientation; sexist or sexual bullying.

Any of the above bullying behaviours coming from students, staff or families towards members of the BSS school community will not be tolerated

What is Cyber- bullying?

Cyberbullying is the use of technologies by an individual or a group of people to deliberately and repeatedly upset someone else. Cyberbullying is a whole school community issue and will not be tolerated at BSS.

A wide variety of behaviours can be considered cyberbullying, including:

- intimidation and threats
- harassment and stalking
- vilification/defamation
- exclusion or peer rejection
- impersonation
- unauthorised publication of personal information or images
- manipulation.

Cyberbullying may also constitute discrimination and hate crimes, such as:

- sexist bullying
- racist and faith-targeted bullying
- homophobic bullying
- bullying in relation to a disability.

There are a variety of technologies that may be used to cyberbully, including email, smartphones and a large variety of social media platforms including but not exclusive to; Facebook, Twitter, Instagram, Snapchat, ASKfm, WhatsApp, Sarahah, Redditt and YouTube.

It is important that the BSS community is aware that any cyberbullying will be dealt with as seriously as face-to-face bullying, regardless of whether the bullying is physically perpetrated on the school site. DfE guidance on cyberbullying states: "Schools should also make clear that it is not acceptable for pupils, parents or colleagues to denigrate and bully (any member of the school community) via social media in the same way that it is unacceptable to do so face to face."

2006. The guidance should be read in conjunction with the Safeguarding Children and Child Protection Policy and Procedures 2019.

Objective of Guidance

Good personal and professional relationships between staff and pupils is vital to ensure a safe and happy school. It is recognised that the majority of pupils behaviour and conduct is excellent and pupils respond positively to behaviour systems. It is also acknowledged that in exceptional circumstances, staff may need to take action in situations where the use of reasonable, proportional and necessary force is required.

What is reasonable force?

- The term 'reasonable force' covers the broad range of actions used by most teachers at some point in their career that involve a degree of physical contact with pupils.
- Force is usually used either to control or restrain. This can range from guiding a pupil to safety by the arm through to more extreme circumstances such as breaking up a fight or where a student needs to be restrained to prevent violence or injury.
- 'Reasonable in the circumstances' means using the minimum degree of force necessary for the shortest period of time to prevent a pupil harming himself, herself, others or property.
- Schools generally use force to control pupils and to restrain them. Control means either passive physical contact, such as standing between pupils or blocking a pupil's path, or active physical contact such as leading a pupil by the arm out of a classroom.
- Restraint means to hold back physically or to bring a pupil under control. It is typically used in more extreme circumstances, for example when two pupils are fighting and refuse to separate without physical intervention.
- School staff should always try to avoid acting in a way that might cause injury, but in extreme cases it may not always be possible to avoid injuring the pupil.

Underpinning Values

Everyone attending or working at the school has a right to:

- recognition of their unique identity
- be treated with respect and dignity
- learn and work in a safe environment
- be protected from harm, violence, assault, and acts of verbal abuse

Who can use reasonable force?

- All members of the school staff have the power to use reasonable force. If possible, the Deputy Head or Head of School should be used.
- Schools do not require parental consent to use force on a student.

When can reasonable force be used?

- Where possible, reasonable force should be avoided, and other strategies applied first. The prime reason to use reasonable force is if the safety of a child/children or adult is at risk.
- Reasonable force can be used to prevent pupils from hurting themselves or others, from damaging property, or from causing disorder or distress to others.
- In a school, force is used for two main purposes – to control pupils or to protect them or others.
- The decision on whether to physically intervene is down to the professional judgement of the staff member concerned and should always depend on the individual circumstances.
- Reasonable force can be used on the school site during the school day, school supervised events and on trips and residential trips.
- The following list is not exhaustive but provides some examples of situations where reasonable force can and cannot be used.
- When there is a known reasonable force protocol for an individual child that has been created in agreement with the Pastoral Team, parents and other relevant staff.

Schools can use reasonable force to:

- Remove disruptive children from the classroom where they have refused to follow an instruction to do so (call for assistance from Deputy Head or Head of School);
- Prevent a pupil behaving in a way that disrupts a school event or a school trip or visit;
- Prevent a pupil leaving the classroom where allowing the pupil to leave would risk their safety or lead to behaviour that disrupts the behaviour of others.
- Prevent a pupil from attacking a member of staff or another pupil, or to stop a fight in the playground; and
- Restrain a pupil at risk of harming themselves through physical outbursts.

All actions should take account of pupils:

- age
- gender
- level of physical, emotional and intellectual development
- special needs
- social context

Schools cannot:

- Use force as a punishment – it is always unlawful to use force as a punishment.

Recording incidents of reasonable force and informing parents

- The Deputy Head and Head of School should always be informed if reasonable force is used.
- All incidents of reasonable force are recorded on Engage as a Behaviour Incident.
- Any incident of reasonable force must be communicated to parents either in person or by phone. Parental feedback is recorded on Engage as a follow up to the initial Behaviour Incident.

Power to search pupils without consent

In addition to the general power to use reasonable force described above, headteachers and authorised staff can use such force as is reasonable given the circumstances to conduct a search for the following 'prohibited items':

- Knives and weapons
- Alcohol
- Illegal drugs
- Stolen items
- Tobacco and cigarette papers
- Fireworks
- Pornographic images
- Any article that has been or is likely to be used to commit an offence, cause personal injury or damage to property.
- Force cannot be used to search for items banned under the school rules

What about other physical contact with pupils?

It is not illegal to touch a pupil. There are occasions when physical contact, other than reasonable force, with a pupil is proper and necessary.

Examples of where touching a pupil might be proper or necessary:

- Holding the hand of the child at the front/back of the line when going to assembly or when walking together around the school;
- When comforting a distressed pupil;
- When a pupil is being congratulated or praised;
- To demonstrate how to use a musical instrument;
- To demonstrate exercises or techniques during PE lessons or sports coaching; and
- To give first aid.

Staff and Student Support Following an Incident

All members of staff or pupils at the school involved in or witnessing a serious incident involving the use of physical force may require additional support following the incident. Staff should ensure they are fully recovered from an incident before returning to their duties. The wellbeing of pupils should also be supported. In both instances the school's nursing team will make an evaluation and support any recovery necessary.

Whistleblowing and pupil or parental complaints

Any follow up complaints or concerns raised by staff, pupils or parents should be investigated by a Safeguarding Lead and the Head of School and Principal should be informed immediately. This should be in line with the school's Whistleblowing Policy.

APPENDIX 16 Handling Conflict

HANDLING CONFLICT - STAFF GUIDANCE

We use this process to help and support children to resolve disagreements they may have had with one another. Once children have practised this process a few times with you, use this prompt with the expectation that children work through steps 3 to 5 independently.

Step 1 Approach calmly – kneel down to be at the childrens' level.

Step 2 Acknowledge feelings - if the conflict is over an object, gently take it from the child/children and hold it.

Step 3 Gather information - ask all children involved what has happened and then word the problem for them so they understand what the conflict is about, getting agreement from all.

Step 4 Restate the problem for the children

Step 5 Ask the children for ideas for solutions - ask questions such as 'What do you think we can do about this problem?'. Repeat the childrens' solutions and act as a mediator. All must agree on the shared solution.

Step 6 Offer follow up support - congratulate the children on solving a problem/conflict and observe children for a minute or so.

When we fall out we....

Stop

Make-Up

HANDLING CONFLICT

Use this with your friends to resolve disagreements and falling outs.

Step 1 You are having a disagreement – STOP! Go and find the Handling Conflict card. Sit in a place where you can both see each other.

Step 2 THINK! – Think about how you are feeling and what you want to say to your friend.

Step 3 TALK! – Take turns to explain to your friend how you are feeling and why you are upset. Make sure you listen and don't interrupt each other.

Step 4 MAKE UP – Together, decide how you can solve the problem. Agree on your solution and make up.

Step 5 – If following these steps has not helped you to resolve your disagreement, ask an adult to help you work through these steps again.

Live Video Sessions Students Protocols

- During the normal school timings, I will only use live video sessions for classwork purposes as directed by my teacher.
- I will only use live video sessions when my parents have given consent. I will not reveal my passwords to anyone.
- I will be responsible for my behaviour and actions when using live video sessions (Google Classroom, Google Meets and other interactive applications) this includes the resources I access and the language I use.
- I will make sure that all my communication with students, teachers or others using live video sessions is responsible and sensible.
- I will not deliberately browse, download, upload or forward material that could be considered offensive or illegal. If I accidentally come across any such material I will report it immediately to my teacher or my parents.
- I will not record or take photos of my classmates or teachers during a live video session.
- I understand that when using Google Classroom and any other applications provided by the school that my use can be monitored and logged and can be made available to my teachers.
- I understand that for my safety, live video sessions are recorded.
- I understand that these rules are designed to help keep me safe and that if they are not followed, school will follow normal disciplinary measures and my parents may be contacted.

Google Meet Guidelines

When using Google Meet, remember that this is an extension of the classroom and you should conduct yourself as you would in a classroom. This includes:

- Live video sessions should be done from an environment that is quiet, safe and free from distractions.
- Be on time for your sessions.
- Be ready for sessions i.e. have gone to the toilet beforehand and have the equipment you need to work.
- Mute my sound as instructed.
- Keep my camera on unless told otherwise.
- Unless told otherwise, wait to begin the task at the allocated lesson time
- If you have to leave the session/laptop for any reason, inform the class teacher
- Be dressed appropriately for learning. No pyjamas, no swimwear, take note of Oman's cultural expectations surrounding clothing.
- Remain attentive during sessions.
- Interact patiently and respectfully with your teachers and peers.
- Provide feedback to teachers about your experiences and any relevant suggestions.
- Make sure you end the session as soon as the teacher indicates to do so
- No recording or photographing of other students within the Meet

Behaviour

1. First Warning - If a student is disrupting the session, issue the first warning to the student.
2. Second Warning - If a student continues to disrupt the session, your teacher will issue a second warning to the student.
3. Removal - If the action continues, the teacher will tell the student that they will be removing them from the live video session. The student will then be removed. A message will then be passed onto the year leader who will advise appropriate action.

If 3 removals occur within any half term, the student will be banned from participating in any further live video sessions that half term.

Appendix 18: Exclusions

Fortunately the School has only rarely considered excluding students on disciplinary or health grounds. However, when it does, steps need to be taken in a careful sequence in order to ensure that students are treated fairly and consistently. This policy lays out the steps that must be taken and the points to consider before a decision is made to exclude a student.

BSS is committed to:

- Ensuring that students who are being considered for exclusion on disciplinary or health grounds are treated fairly and consistently.
- Having transparent steps that should be systematically taken and the factors that should be carefully considered before a decision is taken to exclude a student.
- Showing who is responsible for steps in the procedure leading up to exclusion.

Avoiding Exclusion

In most cases exclusion will be the last resort after a range of measures have been tried to improve a student's behaviour. Policy, procedures and training collectively minimise the number of students at risk of exclusion. However, for those at risk, additional measures include:

- Engaging with parents
- Introduction of a specific pastoral support programme
- Outsourced (funded by parents) individual adult support
- Limited curriculum alternatives
- Assessment of Special Educational Needs
- Referral to a specific external support service, such as an educational psychologist or child psychiatrist.

The behaviour of students at risk is sometimes driven by complex combinations of social, emotional and health problems, so the involvement of all adults, including parents is carefully coordinated, creating a broadly representative team.

A number of different alternatives to exclusion are available to the Head of School in response to a serious breach of behaviour policy. This include, but are not limited to:

- Restorative Justice
- Mediation
- Internal Exclusion
- Recommendation for withdrawal to the parents
- Negotiated transfer to another Salah school

Removing Students from School

There are three exceptional circumstances in which individual students may be removed from school on disciplinary or health grounds, namely where:

- a) There is sufficient evidence that a student has committed a serious disciplinary offence. In these circumstances the student may be excluded from school for a fixed period or permanently.
- b) A student is accused of a serious criminal offence but the offence took place outside the school's jurisdiction. In these circumstances the Head of School may decide that it is in the interests of the individual concerned and of the school community as a whole for that student to be educated at home for a fixed period, subject to review at regular intervals. This is not an exclusion.
- c) A student's presence in school represents a serious risk to the health or safety of other students or school staff, or themselves. In these circumstances the Head of School may send the student home for a period of time after consultation with the parents (where possible). This is not an exclusion.

A decision to exclude a student should be taken only:

- In response to serious breaches of the school's behaviour policy; and
- If allowing the student to remain in school would seriously harm the education or welfare of the student or others in the school.

Only the Head of School, (or, in the absence of the Head of School, the Deputy Head) can exclude a student.

A decision to exclude a child permanently is a serious one. It will usually be the final step in a process for dealing with disciplinary offences following a wide range of other strategies as outlined in this policy, which have been tried without success. It should be acknowledged by the school that it has exhausted all available strategies for dealing with the student and should normally be used as a last resort.

There will, however, be exceptional circumstances where, in the Head of School's judgement, it is appropriate to recommend the permanent exclusion of a student for a first or 'one off' offence.

These might include but not be limited to:

- Serious actual or threatened violence against another student, staff member or member of the school community.
- Sexual abuse or assault

British School Salah Promoting Positive Behaviour and Relationships

- Supplying, using or being in possession of an illegal drug
- Carrying an offensive weapon
- Persistent and defiant misbehaviour including bullying (which includes racist or religious bullying)

These instances are not exhaustive, but indicate the severity of such offences and the fact that such behaviour can affect the discipline and well-being of the school's community.

Before Making a Decision to Exclude

Exclusion will not be imposed in the heat of the moment, unless there is an immediate threat to the safety of others or the student concerned. Before deciding whether to exclude a student, either permanently or for a fixed period, the Head of School should ensure that a thorough investigation has been carried out and consider all the evidence available to support the case for or against exclusion.

Removal of Pupils on Health & Safety Grounds

The Head of School may send a pupil home, after consultation with that pupil's parents (where possible) and a health professional (for example, the School's nurse), where because of a diagnosed illness such as a communicable disease he or she poses an immediate and serious risk to the health and safety of themselves, other pupils or staff. This is not an Exclusion and should be for the shortest possible time. If difficulties persist, the Head of School should seek medical advice.

The Head of School has the right to exclude students from the school if they have travelled to areas that are subject to a WHO advice of "essential travel only". The exclusion should be for the shortest length of time, i.e.. the incubation period.

Fixed Period Exclusions

The Head of School may exclude a pupil for one or more fixed periods. However, individual fixed period exclusions should be for the shortest time necessary.

Considerations Following a Fixed Period Exclusion

The school's obligation to provide education continues while the pupil is on the roll, and must be met during a fixed term exclusion. In all cases of more than a day's exclusion, work should be set and marked.

The Head of School should arrange a reintegration meeting with parents following the expiry of a fixed period exclusion. This should represent an opportunity to discuss how best the pupil can return to school and can be a useful forum to consider with parents the possibility of a parenting contract. However, a fixed period exclusion should not be extended if such a meeting cannot be arranged in time or the parents do not attend.

All fixed term exclusions should be reported formally to the Board of Governors in the Head of School's report and informally to the BSM Principal on or before the first day of the exclusion.

Parental Cooperation

If a parent does not comply with an exclusion, for example by sending the excluded child to school, or by refusing to collect, or arrange collection of him or her, the Head of School must have due regard for the pupil's safety in deciding what action to take. An exclusion will not be enforced if doing so may put the safety of the pupil at risk. If efforts to resolve the issue with the parents are unsuccessful the Head of School should consider whether to contact the Ministry of Education about available legal remedies.

British School Salah Promoting Positive Behaviour and Relationships

Permanent Exclusion

Whenever the Head of School decides that a pupil should be permanently excluded, s/he should exclude the pupil indefinitely pending a review by the Pupil Discipline Sub Committee and subsequent consideration by the full Board of Governors of the sub committee's findings and recommendations.

This process should be completed, wherever possible, within 10 school days. The Head of School can only recommend permanent exclusion. S/he can not permanently exclude a pupil without the approval of the Board of Governors. The final decision therefore rests with the Board of Governors who, during their investigation, must consider all aspects of the case and meet with the parents of the affected pupil.

Procedures Following Permanent Exclusion

In the case of a permanent exclusion the pupil remains on the roll of the school until the Board of Governors has decided on the outcome of its review.

Behaviour Outside School

Pupils' behaviour outside school on school business — for example, on school trips, away school sports fixtures, or work experience placements — is subject to the school's behaviour policy. Bad behaviour in such circumstances should be dealt with as if it had taken place in school. For behaviour outside school, but not on school business, the Head of School may exclude a pupil if there is a clear link between that behaviour and maintaining good behaviour and discipline among the pupil body as a whole. This will be a matter of judgement for the Head of School. Pupils' behaviour in the immediate vicinity of the school, or on a journey to or from school can be grounds for exclusion.

Equality

The school has a duty to ensure the absence of racial discrimination and promote equality of opportunity and good relations between people of different racial groups and religious beliefs.

The Head of School should take steps to ensure that s/he will not discriminate against pupils on racial grounds and/or religious persuasion when making a decision about whether to exclude a pupil. For example, the Head of School should monitor and analyse, and report to the Board concerning, exclusions by ethnicity and religious belief to ensure that s/he does not treat some groups of pupils more harshly than others.

Informing Parents about the Exclusion

The Head of School should follow carefully the following procedures, which are designed to ensure fairness and openness in the handing of exclusions.

Whenever the Head of School excludes a pupil, the parents must be notified immediately, ideally by face to face, followed up by a letter within one school day. Letters of notification of exclusion must state:

- For a fixed period exclusion, the precise period of the exclusion

British School Salah Promoting Positive Behaviour and Relationships

- For a permanent exclusion recommendation, the fact that a full review of the case will be conducted by the Pupil Discipline Sub Committee, in consultation with parents, and ultimately decided upon by the Board of Governors
- The reasons for the exclusion
- The person whom the parent should contact if they wish to make representations (this will usually be the Clerk to the Board of Governors) – for permanent exclusion only
- The latest date by which the Board of Governors must meet to consider the circumstances in which the pupil was excluded – for permanent exclusion only
- In the case of a fixed period exclusion, the date and time when the pupil should return to school
- If the exclusion is recommended by the the Head of School to be permanent, the date that indefinite exclusion takes effect
- The arrangements made for enabling the pupil to continue his or her education, including the setting and marking of work. It is the parent's responsibility to ensure that work sent home is completed and returned to school
- All exclusion cases should only be communicated on a need-to-know basis.
- In exceptional cases — usually where further evidence has come to light — a fixed period exclusion may be extended, or converted to a permanent exclusion. In such cases the Head of School must write again to the parents explaining the reasons for the change. The Head of School may withdraw an exclusion that has not yet been reviewed by the Board of Governors.

Informing the Board of Governors

Within one school day the Principal must inform the Board of Governors of:

Recommendations for permanent exclusion

Exclusions which would result in the pupil being excluded for more than five school days in any one term

Exclusions which would result in the pupil missing a public examination

The Board of Governors

The Pupil Discipline Sub Committee must review recommendations from the Principal for permanent exclusions and must consider any representations made by the parents of the excluded pupil. The quorum for a Pupil Discipline Sub Committee meeting is three members. If any governor has a connection with the pupil, or knowledge of the incident that led to the exclusion, which could affect his or her ability to act impartially, he or she should step down. The Chair of the Pupil Discipline Sub Committee has the casting vote in all cases where an even number of governors are considering the case.

If any exclusion would result in the pupil missing a public examination, the Board of Governors should try to meet before the date of the examination. If, exceptionally, it is not practical for the Board of Governors to meet before the time when the pupil is due to take the public examination, the Chair of Governors — using his or her powers to act in an emergency — may consider the exclusion and decide whether or not to reinstate the pupil (these are the only circumstances in which the Chair of Governors can alone review an exclusion). In such cases the parent has the right to make oral representations to the Board of Governors or, as the case may be, the Chair. If possible, the Chair should have the advice of the Chair of the Pupil Discipline Sub Committee.

In some cases, depending on the nature and seriousness of the exclusion, the Board of Governors may exercise its discretion to allow an excluded pupil on the premises for the sole purpose of taking a public examination. There is no automatic right for any excluded pupil to take a public examination on the excluding school's premises — this is entirely at the Board's discretion.

Procedure at the Board of Governors' Meeting

Where an allegation of misconduct against the pupil is in dispute the Board of Governors should apply the balance of probabilities standard of proof, i.e. whether it is more probable than not that the pupil did what he is accused of. However, the more serious the allegation, the more convincing the evidence substantiating the allegation needs to be. This is not the same as requiring the criminal standard to be applied but it does mean that when investigating more serious allegations, the Head of School will need to gather and take account of a wider range of evidence (extending in some instances to evidence of the pupil's past behaviour), in determining whether it is more probable than not that the pupil has committed the offence. The Board of Governors should normally allow the excluded pupil to attend the meeting and speak, if the parent requests this.

Board of Governors' Decision

There are only two decisions open to the Board of Governors — to permanently exclude or to direct the pupil's reinstatement, either immediately or by a particular date.

The Board of Governors must inform the parent (or the pupil if aged 18 or over) and the Principal of their decision in writing within one school day of the decision, stating their reasons. The Board of Governors may not attach conditions to any direction they may give to the Principal to reinstate the pupil; however, this does not prevent the school from following good practice in reintegrating the pupil.

Where the Board of Governors decides to permanently exclude a pupil, their letter to the parent (or pupil if aged 18 or over) should also include the reason for the decision.

After the Meeting
